LPCC

Jenny Robbins, MA, Mental Health Counseling, LPCC, from Denver's own Regis University.

My demeanor tends to be warm, gentle, and connecting. I believe that humans possess innate possibility to change and I look forward to walking alongside you in your growth.

I have served clientele who have experienced: substance use issues, navigating the criminal justice system, trauma, childhood sexual abuse, PTSD, and profound loss. I have training in traumatic bereavement and strive to compassionately attend to the grieving.
